VILLA AND ZAPATA MEN CONTROL CONVENTION

Meeting on Tuesday Is Stormiest and Most Exciting Yet Held at Aguascalientes.

DELEGATES DRAW REVOLVERS

Finally Yield to Becalming Speeches of Their Colleagues—Plan of Zapatistas for Immediate Division of Big Landed Estates Is Favored.

AGUASCALIENTES, MEX., October 27 (Delayed).—A coalition of delegates representing Villa and Zapata ruled today's session of the Mexican National Convention after the stormiest and most exciting meeting the assembly had witnessed. For a time the confusion threatened to grow into a riot. Delegates reached for their revolvers, but finally yielded before the becalming speeches of their colleagues.

The outburst occurred shortly after the arrival of twenty-six Zapata representatives. It developed that they came, not as authorized delegates, but to learn the views of the convention before telegraphing for credentials. Taulillo Martinez, one of their leaders, described the plan of Ayala, the Zapata platform, forming the convention in forcible tones that if it were not accepted Zapata's army would continue to fight. He was given an ovation, the first indication that the convention favored the plan of Ayala, which declares for immediate division of the big landed estates in Mexico.

Antonio Zoto y Gama, who spoke next for the Zapatistas, precipitated a climax which threatened to disrupt the convention. The first part of his speech was applauded, but one of his metaphors mislaid. He had compared the Mexican flag to a rag, and was not permitted to finish his figure of speech. Indignant and angry delegates rose to their feet, and, with hands on their pistols, yelled at each other in fury.

Antonio Villareal, the chairman, pounded in vain for order. Spectators fled from the galleries in panic. General Oregon, Colonel Hay and other prominent delegates then rushed to the platform and finally succeeded in obtaining order.

Roque Gonzales Garza, of the Villa faction, defended Gama, and deplored the incident. A standing vote revealed a great majority in favor of the plan of the Zapatistas.

Colonel Alfredo Serrano, of the Zapatista commission, said the Zapatistas did not carry the Mexican flag while fighting against their brothers, but when they had to fight a foreign enemy, he said, they would follow the flag to a man. He was given a more enthusiastic ovation than accorded any previous speaker.

When other delegates had spoken telegrams were received from Zapata authorizing some of his representatives formally to present their credentials. Before the day's session ended they were on friendly terms with other members of the convention.

DISCRIMINATION CHARGED BY CONSTITUTIONALISTS

WASHINGTON, October 29.—Complaint that American military authorities on the border were discriminating against the Constitutionalists and in favor of the Maximos, rebels at Nacoz, was lodged with the War Department to-day by Rafael Zubaran, head of the Constitutionalists agency here. It was charged that the American military officers were divided into two classes, men to cross the border, a privilege freely accorded to the Maximos, and men to cross the border, a privilege freely accorded to the Maximos.

General Waterspenn, chief of staff, is investigating the complaint, but, from his present advice, feels that the army officers have acted quite within their instructions. He has found that there has been no restriction on the exportation into Mexico of arms and ammunition and military supplies, without discrimination between the factions.

CARRANZA READY TO FIGHT VILLA

WASHINGTON, October 29.—Official reports received here to-night said General Carranza had 10,000 troops at Leon, twenty-five miles south of Aguascalientes, ready to block any southward movement of Villa forces in the event the Aguascalientes convention fails to effect a peaceful solution of Mexico's difficulties.

AMUSEMENTS

Empire—Lucille La Verne Company in "The Next Egg." Colonial—Gracy Scott Company in "A Contented Woman." Bijou—The Passing Review of 1914—Superior—Pictures.

Good Show at Lyric. Rooters for the Triple Alliance, who have no sympathy for the Entente, should see the marvelous exhibition the Great Willie Brothers, who topline the new show that came into the Lyric Theatre yesterday, are giving. The Willes are four strongly-knit, athletic, daring fellows, each with a distinctly Teutonic cast of countenance. At least two of them are constantly jeopardizing their German necks as they go through the most remarkable stunts of the kind probably ever seen here. They are equilibrista, head-to-head balancers and performers of astonishing muscular strength. The Willes literally compelled applause by their daring at the performances given yesterday afternoon and evening.

A real novelty is the "Fifty-Fifty" musical comedy, sung and acted by Harry H. Richards and Bessie Kyle. It is based upon a comic idea and has a libretto and score of the piece both have merit. Miss Kyle and Mr. Richards are agreeably and their comedy work is good.

Detrich and Giff in "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," have a classy vocal and instrumental musical act, which won last night Richards gave several of Chauncey Olcott's favorite songs, which he rendered with capital effect. Pierlot and Scofield, who opened the bill, have a witty comedy, singing the juggling act. It was put over in excellent style. Harry Murphy, monologist, contrived to amuse his audience. He is different from the general run of his type only in that he appears in blackface, which, as little Johnnie Dagan would say, is "without a provocation of a cause."

The Hearst-Sell News Review, showing recent war pictures, is interesting and the show as a whole measures up with the best of the season.

WOMAN MOST BRUTALLY SLAIN BY HER HUSBAND

RALEIGH, N. C., October 29.—Alex Coxe, a mill operative at Rockingham, N. C., murdered his wife in his home there this morning, according to a dispatch from that place. The fifteen-year-old daughter of Coxe testified at a preliminary hearing that while outside the house she was aroused by the sound of something falling and, upon stepping into the kitchen, saw her mother lying face upward on the floor and her father standing above her with a bloody ax in his hand. Mrs. Coxe was fully clothed and battered, and died almost instantly. Coxe, upon being disarmed of the axe, attempted to cut his own throat with a pocket knife, but made only an abrasion on the skin of his neck.

FACULTY DISMISSES CHARGES OF HAZING

Seven Students Had Been Arrested, but Offenses Were Not Flagrant.

CORPS WILL TAKE ACTION

Bomb Explosion on Campus of V. P. I. Breaks Large Number of Window Panes—No Clue to Guilty Persons—Eggleston Makes Statement.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BLACKSBURG, VA., October 29.—In answer to numerous rumors that there had been arrests for hazing and a bomb explosion at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, President Eggleston made the following statement to-day:

"On the strength of certain complaints which came to me, I asked the commandant of cadets to investigate and try to ascertain certain facts in regard to these complaints. A few days later he found seven cadets in a room with a number of new students, placed these cadets under arrest, and referred the whole matter to the faculty for investigation and action.

"The cadets charged with the offense were summoned before the faculty that they might be given an opportunity to make a full statement. This statement they made.

"After full and free discussion, the faculty adopted resolutions expressing their strong disapproval of hazing and requesting the corps to co-operate with the faculty in eliminating completely all forms of hazing as defined under regulations thirty-four and thirty-five for this institution. The statement of the cadets under arrest that they did not regard their action as constituting hazing or violating the regulations of the institution, was accepted by the faculty, and the cases were dismissed. It was evident from the statements made that nothing violent or even approaching severity was done by the students.

"This action of the faculty was unanimous, and every member of the faculty was present with one exception, he being absent from the campus at the time.

"I am informed by the president of the corps, Mr. R. J. MacGregor, that at a meeting of the corps on Monday afternoon, October 26, the corps endorsed the resolutions passed by the faculty in regard to hazing, and that at a future meeting of the corps specific rules and regulations will be adopted in conformity with these resolutions, and, therefore, with paragraphs 34 and 35 of the regulations.

"In reference to a bomb explosion that took place here on the night of October 20, we have been unable to find any clue to the guilty parties. We do not even know whether this act of vandalism was perpetrated by some one in the corps or out of it. The large majority of the corps have expressed their severe disapproval of this act, and if any one in the corps was guilty of it, he is sleeping very quiet. The result of the explosion was that a large number of window panes were broken and a few window sashes were damaged."

"There's a Reason"

why more and more coffee drinkers quit coffee and use--

POSTUM

Once convinced that coffee-drinking is actually harmful to health, few parents would give coffee to their children, or drink it themselves.

What proof more convincing than the unnatural aches and pains that many coffee-drinkers suffer?

What proof more conclusive than the scores of expert medical and scientific opinions against coffee?

Brain, Stomach, Heart, Liver and Kidneys are the first organs to be affected. Sometimes it shows in headache; often in nervousness, indigestion or heart disturbance; frequently in biliousness or disturbed vision.

If you are in doubt, try this test-- Stop coffee ten days and use POSTUM

This pure food-drink made of prime wheat and a small per cent of whole-some molasses, has a rich, Java-like flavour and is absolutely pure and free from the coffee-drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—needs no boiling. A teaspoonful of the soluble powder stirred in a cup of hot water makes a delightful beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds, and the cost per cup is about the same.
